City, County Officials Meet

Canyon

The City of Canyon proposes to spend $354,996 during the fiscal year beginning April 1.

That figure was contained in the budget presented to the City Commission this week and is based on estimated revenues of $350,976 plus an expected balance of $117,096 when the current fiscal year closes March 31.

Those figures give the commission $468,062 in available operating funds.

The money is budgeted to be spent this way:

Operational disbursements: $263,697.

Fixed disbursements: $91,299.

Major operational budget figures included in the 1962-1963 budget are:

Salaries: $147,160.

Street maintenance and improvement expenses: $26,500.

Electric power for pumping in the water production department: $8,000.

Insurance and bonds: $7,725.

Street lighting: $8,300.

This year's revised budget spending figure is $343,187. Funds available during the current fiscal period total $464,062. That is based on $354,927 in revenues plus $109,934 as a fiscal year-ending balance.

The actual budget expenditure figure was $335,213 and disbursements were budgeted at $337,297.

City Manager Bill York explained the city spent more than was actually budgeted during the current fiscal year.

"But we took in more than we expected," he added.

A public hearing on the budget was set for March 26, when the commissioners hold their next regular meeting.

The five-man panel in other action, okayed York's job classification plan for city employees.

Under it, various city jobs are listed according to work classifications and salary and raise schedules are pinpointed.

An employee will receive an automatic pay boost at the end of his first six months of employment. The next four raises under the plan, will be based on merit. After that, the worker will progress to higher job clas-

Randall

Metal casement windows to cost an estimated $31,000 are in the offering for the Randall County Courthouse -- some two years after the proposal was first presented to the county commissioners.

"I just think our building here needs taken care of," Clarence Beckman, commissioner of Precinct 2, told the regular meeting Monday. "We've been on this window deal going on two years."

The possible purchase of voting machines got into the act--briefly--before the commissioners instructed Oscar Schilling of Amarillo, an architect, to submit plans and specifications for the proposed project.

C. Y. Johnson, commissioner of Precinct 4, wondered if the cost of the windows would prohibit the county from buying the voting machines which will be used on a lease basis in this year's primary and general elections.

"The voting machines have been approved and are a thing of the past," Beckman said. "There will always be something coming up. I don't want the Courthouse to be second."

The commissioners will place the window work for bids after receiving the specifica-

Study Shows Randall Low

Randall County's crime rate is comparably low, a study of crime in Texas from 1920 to 1960 shows.

This county, under a rating system used in the survey, indicated 223 state counties sent more persons to the penitentiary than Randall for each 1,000 population.

Dr. R. C. Koeninger, director of the Department of Sociology at Sam Houston State Teachers College, conducted the study.

Randall rated 8.59 under his system based on population units of 1,000.

The county committed 133 persons to the prison during the 40-year period. It ranked 160 among the 254 counties in the actual number sent to Huntsville.

Memo On Pen-Leash Ordinance

Memo to animal owners in Canyon from Chief of Police L. D. Caldwell:

The city's new "animal license and leash or pen" ordinance becomes effective April 1.

"The purpose of the ordinance is to rid Canyon of the large number of stray dogs roaming city streets," Chief Caldwell said, adding:

"Briefly, the ordinance requires that all animals, including dogs and cats, must be kept on a leash or in a pen at all times.

"Failure to do so will result in the animal being picked up.

"Among other things, the ordinance also requires that all animals be vaccinated yearly, and that all dog owners must purchase a city dog license for any dog kept inside the city limits, including licensed dogs."

Chief Caldwell explained that the license will be valid for the life of the dog.

Growth In County Is Tops In State

By WILLIAM L. PEART

Canyon and Randall County continued to expand at a significant clip last year.

A growth survey issued by Manager Roland Black of the Chamber of Commerce today shows that Canyon's population jumped from 5,864 to 6,134 from January 1, 1961, through December 31.

That's an increase of 270 --an average of slightly more than five persons a week.

During the same period, the county grew from 33,913 to 35,183 -- an additional 1,270 residents.

Randall County's population increase was number one in the state on a percentage basis--a big seven percent--according to a survey prepared at the University of Texas.

The Population Research Center Department of Sociology at the university estimated the total of 36,301.

"The growth report issued by the Chamber of Commerce is extremely encouraging," Carroll Vaughan, C of C president, said, adding:

"The rate of growth is especially significant when one considers the figures on a percentage basis. The Chamber of Commerce will continue to exert every effort to improve and expand Randall County."

Vaughan solicited the cooperation of all citizens.

"In order to continue this growth," he said, "the chamber needs your help as citizens of Canyon. Help Canyon -- and

Haley Aims Drive At Texas Points

Evetts Haley, Jr., is scheduled to make appearances in major Texas cities during the next few days in his campaign for the office of Texas commissioner of agriculture.

Haley, 30-year-old Canyon rancher, will begin a swing around the state about April 2.

Sources close to the candidate said this week he expects to fly to speaking engagements in Texas cities, possibly next week.

Haley delivered a no-holds-barred speech that wrung applause from his audience time and again when he opened his campaign in Amarillo Friday night. Some 75 persons were at the rally for the young candidate, who says he is running on a "conservative Democratic platform."

Haley took several verbal swings at his opponent, incumbent John White, whom he repeatedly has accused of being an "errand boy in Austin for the US Department of Agriculture."

He charged White was elected to the post 12 years ago through support of Duval County.

The candidate cited laxities in the seed certification program and grain elevator inspection system -- both under supervision of the incumbent.

Haley hinted at possible corruption. He referred to a case in which he said the department attempted to force a certain type of bread off the market in San Antonio. He said that the Texas Department of Agriculture was ordered by a court to desist in these attempts.

"They even try to tell you what kind of bread to eat," Haley said.

"Grain inspection brings in $100,000 a year or more in fees," Haley pointed out. "Elevator men I've talked to don't know what they're supposed to be getting for these fees."

Haley said the name of the commissioner of agriculture on a seed certification tag no longer means the customer can be certain the seed he's buying actually is pure.

Haley promised to run the department more economically if elected. He said he would ask the legislature to start by cutting the salary of the commissioner by 25 per cent.

Haley said he believes his election as commissioner of agriculture is a certain way for Texas to voice disapproval of the administration's farm plan.

"The big problem in agriculture today is government," he told the rally.

Haley's next campaign appearance will be Saturday at the St. Patrick's Day celebration in Shamrock.

Public Hearing On Paving Scheduled Monday At 5 P.M.

A public hearing on Canyon's proposed assessment paving program will be held in the city hall at 5 p.m. Monday.

"There seems to be considerable general interest in the program," City Manager Bill York said, "and I have been asked a lot of questions about it."

The $95,582.27 program, involving some 165 property owners, would include 40 blocks. The city will pay for about 20 percent of the total to cover the intersections.

The major portion of the paving would be on 8th Ave., beginning at 8th St. and going east to the Canyon Elementary School.

The program's purpose is two-fold, York said:

1. To correct a drainage problem on 9th Ave.
2. To have a paved street between the elementary school and Canyon High School.

Several blocks in other sections of the city would also be paved.

The City Commission will decide within at least several days after the hearing whether to go ahead with the project.

A property owner with a typical 50-foot frontage will pay $191.50 for his share of paving requiring a width of 31 feet. This is figured at $3.83 a front-foot.

Forty feet of paving on a typical 50-foot lot will cost a property owner $229, figured at $4.58 a front-foot.

York explained two methods of financing:

1. A total cash payment, with the money placed in escrow until the paving is completed and approved by the city.

2. Payment in four equal installments of 25 percent. The first 25 percent will be due within ten days of the project's completion. The balance is to be paid in annual installments.

CD Plans Completed

The civil defense and disaster relief plan for Randall County is now operational.

That's the word from key officials who attended a final organizational meeting in the Courthouse in Canyon Tuesday night.

Earlier this week, the Randall County Commissioners' Court and the Canyon City Commission approved the plan, which now will be submitted to state civil defense authorities in Austin.

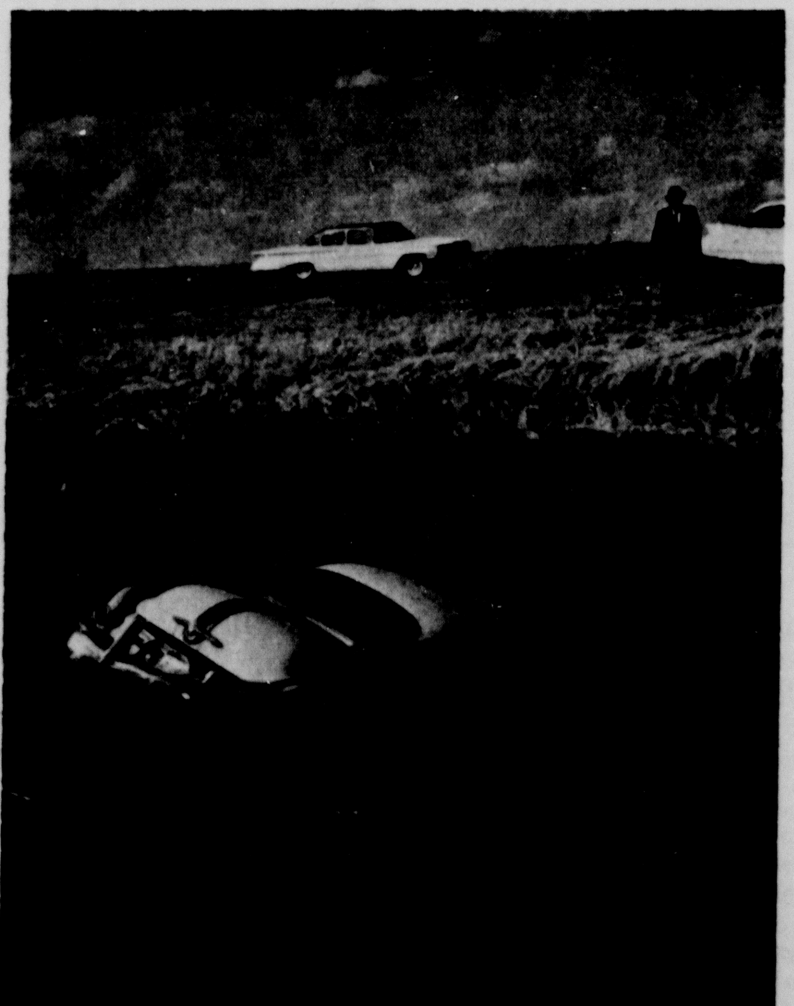
Some 35 persons connected with the program attended the session, including:

D. E. Lowes, mayor of Canyon, and co-director; Co-Director Wayland Angel, county judge; Assistant Director W. W. Sternenberg; and Bill York, Canyon's city manager.

Booklets explaining the plan and identification cards were distributed at the meeting.

The plan will "provide a workable program for the residents of Randall County in the event of a disaster or emergency. It is designed to save the most lives, minimize danger and property damage, and to restore conditions to normal as soon as possible."

IT WENT IN HERE: Bill Hood points to where his car, passengerless but with its motor idling, plunged into the Prairie Dog Fork of the Red River at the Hunsley Hills Country Club last week. The car sank to the bottom of the 12-foot-deep stream.



STARTED COMING OUT HERE: Highway Patrolman Gilbert Ray paddles in the frigid stream after hooking a cable onto the vehicle. The thermometer read a cool 62 degrees, but the spring-fed creek was much colder. Canyon Body Shop wrecker begins to haul the car to the surface.

ENDED UP HERE: The car is being held in position while water drained out. Hood peers into his car to drag out debree and small fishes trapped inside. It took about five minutes to tow the auto out once the job got underway. Estimated damage was unknown.

AND THE SKIN DIVER SHIVERED HERE: Ray, the skin diver, had a cold time of it, working underwater for several minutes in making the hook-up. Besides being a deep pink with cold, he showed no ill after effects. A brisk wind added to his discomfiture before a towel was brought to the rescue.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

by Troy Martin

We received an unsigned card this morning along with a clipping from The Washington Post. The clipping was of a column by Walter Lippmann.

The writer of the post card asks for a "rationalized rebuttal."

The Lippmann bit tries to prove that John Kennedy is a conservative. How ridiculous can you get? Next thing you know Lippmann may be trying to prove that Norman Thomas founded the John Birch Society.

This country's public spending is not so bad Lippmann declares. There are others much worse than we. He quotes a Professor F. M. Bator who says that public spending is much higher in Britain, Sweden, Norway and France among other countries of the West than in the US. We are not going down the high road to socialism, Lippmann declares, we are a very conservative nation.

Note that most of the countries he uses as examples either are outright socialist states or under dictatorship. Our next question is who is Dr. Bator and where does he come by his statistics? You can prove anything by statistics if you don't have to prove the statistics.

The truth is Mr. Kennedy has proved himself neither a conservative nor a liberal. Mr. Kennedy is an opportunist who is unabashedly using nepotism --an old fashioned trick of the medieval despot -- to consolidate the power of the Kennedy dynasty. For those who doubt, we ask how many Kennedys and Kennedy relatives now grace the public payroll of this country in positions of great power?

How many times in the past week we have heard the statement, "They couldn't do that!" when someone brought up the subject of income tax on private homes.

This is how it would work. The federal government would have your home appraised and then a "fair" rental value would be set on it. If you live in a $20,000 home, for instance, your "fair" rental value probably would be set at $200 a month or $2400 a year. Say you are in the 25 per cent income tax bracket, you would have to pay the internal bureau of revenue $600 for living in your own home.

They can and probably will. Does this frighten you? Does this sound conservative?

The "fair" rental value plan already has been advanced by the treasury department as one of the income tax loopholes often referred to by the administration. The move probably can be made under existing law and without reference to congress.

It behooves us all to take greater interest in our government, local, state and national. Government affects your daily life. Government is your business and mine. No people can blame their leaders for what befalls them. People get the kind of government they allow.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

It is an act of foolishness, on the part of anyone, to spend time or money for one thing if either could be better spent for something else. I can think of no better way, right now, than to write this letter to the Canyon News and express my sentiments, in no uncertain terms, relative to the anticipated spending, by Randall County, of fifty or sixty thousand dollars for voting machines. It seems to me that nothing short of an acute attack of "spenditis" could cause such behavior on the part of our county.

If we have that kind of money that we just have to get rid of, and there can be found no need for extra road construction, maintenance, or equipment, no debts to be paid, nor any other worthwhile project that we can spend it for, then let us bundle it up and send it to Washington and let the expert wasters dispose of it for us and save us the stigma of dissipating our resources for $1,800.00 machines with which we can do no more than we can with two-cent pencils.

The most satisfaction I get out of voting, anyway, is the opportunity of expressing my contempt by the pressure I am privileged to put on the pencil when scratching the name of some socialistic, one-world government panderer, whose sordid ambition is to seduce America and waste her precious substance of moral integrity and patriotic virtue in the brothels of the world, to satisfy the lusts of foreign monarchs, dictators, and tyrants. -- yet some would deny me this small privilege by taking my pencil away from me and forcing me to use a bland machine.

Same Old Story For Firemen

It was the same old story for the Canyon Volunteer Fire Department last weekend--grass fires in the area.

Members were called out Saturday as high winds, laden with dust, gusted the area.

One fire was at Louis Hinders' ranch and the other was in Palo Duro State Park.

No one was injured. The extent of the damage was not announced.

Hilltop Views

Last week I "viewed with alarm" the prevalence of fear, distrust, prejudice, acrid criticism of governmental officials, uninformed but not uncertain political convictions, and what I call a morbid view of the future of this country, all of which is a poor basis for genuine American patriotism. It was my wish, if not hope, that our people shall get themselves in hand and exercise enlightened reason when thinking and talking about public issues and duly elected public officials. That is an important road to survival.

Through the courtesy of our good friend, Floyd Studer of Amarillo, an upstanding American if there are any such, I came into possession recently of a clipping from the Kiplinger Magazine which reflects the same concern that I expressed last week. It is too long for Hilltop Views, but there isn't a surplus word in it and I just hope it gets by Troy Martin. Its subject is, What's Right with America?

You hear and feel it everywhere--misgivings and worries about America. It is said that perhaps we have lost our stuff, gone soft. No sense of purpose, no ideals. Even it is said, our free-enterprise system no longer delivers the goods as effectively as it once did.

These self-doubts boil up from within, from idealistic young persons, who burn with indignation over flaws in our ways of thinking and doing. From reformers impatient over the delays in reaching utopia next week. From ordinary folks unnerved by rebuffs we get from all around the globe. And the self-doubts are aggravated by criticism from outside, from the communists, who are smart in the ways of propaganda and who tell the world that the U.S.A. is a corrupt, self-centered society doomed to succumb to Marxism.

What are we to think of ourselves? What are we to say to foreign critics? Is this country really all washed up?

Are we flabby and decadent? True, we have the world's highest living standards -- cars, television, washers, fancy kitchens, supermarkets loaded with food, and we like these things. But the communist peoples like them, too, and perhaps much of the pooh-poohing of our comfortable way of life grows out of envy. Remember that the communists are trying to ascend to "softness" as rapidly as possible. The big reward they hold out to their people is the chance eventually to "live like the Americans."

How come we have unemployment, while the Soviet Union doesn't? Mainly because our system works too well, produces surpluses, while the Russians still struggle with shortages. Their "full employment" stems from inefficiency, unfilled wants and forced labor.

How can we speak for democracy when we practice racial segregation and discrimination? The answer is that as a nation we do not believe in racial inequality. Some persons do, but on the whole, we are moving toward improvement with amazing speed.

Isn't capitalism basically selfish? True, capitalism runs on the profit motive, profit for the individual. But the demonstrable fact about this kind of selfishness is that it makes for a high degree of productivity, more things for more people. Within our free-enterprise system there exists a welter of nonprofit organizations, charitable institutions, cooperatives. The "selfish" individuals (all of us) who run the system through governments of their own choosing impose taxes on themselves, pass laws providing for social security and unemployment insurance, raise money for symphony orchestras and start hospitals.

When you are told that we are a selfish people, a grubby people, ask yourself why we are fundamentally such a religious people, which we indeed are. This is not just a matter of maintaining thousands of churches. It is not a matter of mere surface piety. It is something of the spirit, deep within us, that prompts us to be humane -- to give millions to charity, to send our substance and our citizens abroad to help the less fortunate. We have always been generous, instinctively, and we keep it up, even when we are kicked in the teeth for our generosity.

Why do we have poverty, juvenile delinquency, laziness, drunkenness, opinionated ignorance, mental illness? Well, every country has these problems -- Russia included -- but they stand out here because of the general well-being of the great majority. We also publicize such troubles in an attempt to find solutions, while the reds simply pretend that they have no such faults. Dictators can suppress any mention of rotten spots. In America, everybody shoots his mouth off, gripes about the government, puts on the line any dirty linen he wants to air. Our defects are drummed into us from press and radio and TV and pulpit. That's why we lose perspective, often think too poorly of ourselves.

To find faults in others does not excuse faults in ourselves, but it does give a sense of balance. If communism is superior as a system, why no free elections to let the people choose for themselves? Why have all communist conquests been by military force or by guerrilla revolts in backward countries? Why has Russia fallen back on capitalist practices to get its economy moving? (Bonuses, incentives, private farming, property inheritance.) Why are our broadcasts jammed -- can't the happy Russians be trusted to hear anything from the "decadent bourgeoisie"? Why do communist countries vie with each other for selfish advantages? Where is the world brotherhood of workers and peasants the reds promised -- the brotherhood that would do away with the poison of nationalism?

If the trend of history really is toward communism, why have the most advanced nations of western Europe turned against communism and enjoyed their greatest boom?

Whenever you start believing that the Russians are winning, bear this in mind: We have in fact won some big rounds. Russia was defeated in the attempt to communize western Europe. Russia's plans failed in Greece, in Nasser's Egypt, in Iraq, in the Congo. True, we have lost in China and Cuba, and we have trouble in Latin America. But the Chinese reds show no inclination to truckle to Khrushchev, and the last chapter on the wild Senor Castro has yet to be written.

If you are tempted to despair of our system, try to see it whole, the good with the bad.

As a machine for producing things, the U.S. economic system is unrivaled. The benefits of this economic machine are distributed to many people. Our poor are fewer and less poor than the poor in the communist countries. Our middle class has tremendously expanded, upgraded from poor, also enlarged from the ranks of the once very rich. This has put the final kibosh on the class system that we inherited from Europe. It is we, not the Russians, who are running the world's most exciting revolution, benefiting millions.

Dislocations, problems, yes. But again, we are sensitive to them and make efforts to find remedies. And our system contains within itself the capacity to find remedies. Why? Because the whole idea behind the system is that people have a right to be free. And freedom means the opportunity to have choices, to tinker with personal and national goals.

The role of freedom in our system is not always fully appreciated. Too often we think of freedom as merely the absence of constraint. It is much more than that. Freedom means, for example, that you do not have to follow our father and be a farmer or a teacher because that's what he was. But it also means you have affirmative choices to be a lawyer or a carpenter or a bum, to rise or fall on your own.

Who is in charge in the U.S.A.? Wall Stree? Big Business? Big unions? No. Organized groups are influential, but they are often in conflict, and no one of them is dominant. We come closer to running ourselves than any other people ever.

To sum it up: We have goods, we have services, we have more wealth per capita. Those things are tangible and materialistic. On top of them, or perhaps at the base of them, we have individual latitudes, and the common term is freedom. We are far from perfect, but we make progress. We need not moan all the time or spend our time apologizing for what's wrong. It's better to strike a balance. If we do, we stand up straight, with dignity. Then we see a good people, working and living with a good system. And that's what's RIGHT with our country.

Of This...And That...

Like most so-called big city newspaper folks, I got weary of jumping on and then falling off of the flying machines.

My hands sported ugly callouses from struggling with seat belts.

And my usually-eager taste buds became testy each time a pretty young thing swayed down the aisle and wondered, in a tired sort of way, if it would be "coffee, tea or milk."

I wanted to be the citizen-type, and to settle down, as they say, and sip sure enough coffee with sure enough people. Not share the instant stuff with a red-nosed stranger.

That was the pattern. Nothing new or original or individual, mind you. Just edit a good, respectable newspaper. I reckoned it would be the good and the happy life.

Easy, I figured, and elegant, too. Only one deadline a week--and, as a wire service typewriter poker, I was geared to one every minute. Here...there...anywhere.

But I come before you, my friends, stooped, and with my shoulders at a dreary slant--to report:

1. There's no such caboose as ONE deadline on a weekly paper.

2. It ain't easy. Wire service work? Bush league.

I must add:

1. My coffee intake has spurted to an all-time high -- but with friendly folks, and there are no strangers.

2. It is, as I suspected, the livable life.

The 12-hour days -- and the 15 ones, too -- are good for my misery.

Even my indigestion is a thing of my bubbling past. My yardhouse figuring tells me my Tum bill -- a mighty total in my B. C. (Before Canyon) budget -- is down by 11 bucks and 38 pennies.

I've also managed to tuck away an impressive list of incidental intelligence for down-the-road, showoff use.

Like learning the most efficient way to dump a waste basket bulging with headlines that refused to fit and with copy that didn't read.

Nothing to it, once you remember the angle of the left hand is the key that tags you either as poor, fair, good or excellent with the baskets.

The people around the newsroom consider me excellent. They insist I piddled away prime years fastening and unfastening safety belts on DC-7's.

I can write a subscription order -- fair, if not excellent--discuss the screw worm problem, and even place a fresh set of paper towels in the gadget that holds them hard by the wash basin.

Of course, the towels roll out in batches of seven now, but I'm learning. I'm sure that, with practice, I can lower the figure by two a week until the regulation one spins down.

Before too long, I hope to soakup at least a little something about the newsside of the weekly newspaper business.

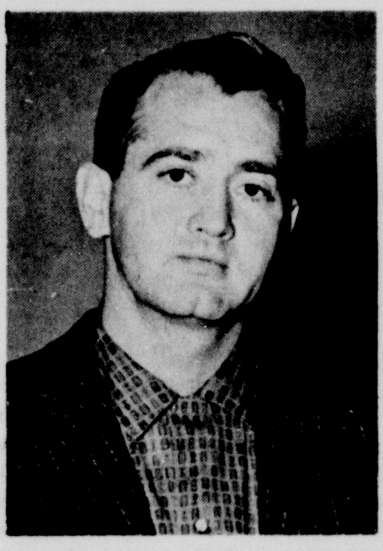
Christopher Announces



Jimmy L. Christopher has authorized The Canyon News to announce his candidacy for the post of Randall County Commissioner, Precinct 2, in the Republican Primary May 5.

"I am a conservative," Jim said. "I am for good, sound government."

He solicited the support of all voters in the precinct.

"I want your help and assistance in my race as a Randall County commissioner," the candidate said, "and all efforts in that direction will be greatly appreciated."

Jim, who owns his home at 1405 Eighth Ave., was solicited to run by friends who believe a county commissioner living in Canyon can effectively serve the precinct and county with whatever time is necessary to accomplish the required work.

Jim was born in Wellman in Terry County on July 18, 1931.

He was graduated from Wellman High School in 1948 and then came to Canyon, where he enrolled at West Texas State College. He majored in economics and government.

He left WT in 1952, when he entered the army. He served in Europe until he was discharged in 1955 with the rank of corporal.

Jim returned to Canyon that same year as a representative of Crowe-Gulde Cement Co. of Amarillo.

He became division manager of the Canyon division in 1957.

The commission candidate remained in that position until November of 1961, leaving to form a partnership with Carroll Vaughan in real estate and loans.

The company operates under the name of Christopher-Vaughan Real Estate Co. in the old First National Bank Building at Fifteenth St. and Fourth Ave.

He and wife, Zona, have a two-year-old daughter, Jimma and are of the Church of Christ denomination.

The singers were Judy Roberts, Marie Dowlen, Bob Haggard, Wam Moore, Bill Phillips, Carol Brown, Harry Lisle, Frances Kiker and Lynne Larson.

Woodard-Lee Vows Exchanged In Home Wedding Ceremony

MR. AND MRS. DANNY LEE

The wedding of Miss Jayne Woodard and Danny Lee was an event of Friday, February 23, in the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood W. Harris in Altus, Oklahoma. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Woodard of Altus, and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lee of Canyon.

Given in marriage by her father for the double ring ceremony, the bride was gowned in white silk styled in a street length dress, featuring a stitched band down the front of the bodice and on the sleeves. Her pillbox hat and white silk covered slippers complemented the ensemble. She carried a Bible centered with a white orchid surrounded by stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried out the traditional good luck for brides with, "something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue and a penny in her shoe."

Officiating minister was Billy Joe Osborne of the Church of

Local Churches Join in Relief

At least four Canyon Churches are involved in the Lenten Sacrificial Offering for World Relief, joining with all major Protestant and Orthodox denominations in the United States, as they plan and give to help the less fortunate, especially where disaster has fallen upon a people. Relief areas during the past year have been British Honduras, Taiwan, Chile, and Hong Kong, as well as other areas, where need and hunger are constant, even when disaster has not assumed newsworthy proportions.

On April 1, during the Sunday Services, it will be "Time to Share" in the First Christian, First Methodist, First Presbyterian and All Saints Episcopal churches. Other churches have similar programs, especially the Lutherans and Roman Catholics, with parallel relief offerings being gathered at the same time. Jewish congregations also are joining in gathering offerings, at this time. The National Advertising Council is giving generously of its talent and facilities to undergird this effort of the concerned.

Each participating denomination receives and administers the funds which are given, using already-established lines of communication, so that an efficient conveying of offerings to the area of greatest need is effected. Food, clothing, medicines and vitamins are rushed to disaster areas in an emergency.

Then, the aim is to assist in establishing self-help, since the only way that normal life can be resumed, is the pattern of employment, conventional trade and community responsibility. In Hong Kong, and Taiwan, "One Great Hour" offerings have helped in the development of home industries in order that economic dependence is reduced.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Troy:

After reading the Canyon News of February 22 in which you printed parts of a speech delivered on the West Texas State campus by Miss Lisa Howard, who is billed as an actress, reporter, and lecturer, I will agree that she has all of these vocations, and possibly a lot more.

The first thing that comes to my mind is why a committee in a great college like West Texas State in the great State of Texas would secure a person who would make such a socialistic speech as the one which she made on our college campus. It makes one feel that those responsible for the engaging of this woman to speak on our campus are not qualified to be a part of West Texas College. Possibly, this committee took the position that she was secured to speak here under academic freedom, but these are the most overworked words in the English language. This woman talked about freedom all right, but what she said did not mean freedom, but slavery for the American people.

It is my earnest hope that the fine group of students who heard this woman will resent her socialistic lectures; and it is my further hope that the parents of these students enrolled in West Texas State College will be able to read what has been said concerning our American way of life, and realize what kind of speakers their boys and girls are being subjected to on the West Texas State College campus.

Now some comments on what was said. First, Miss Howard said that socialism was one of the foremost foes of communism. She might get that over in some parts of the country but not in Texas. I would go so far as to say that not one country in the whole world that is now dominated by the communist that it was socialist dominated before communism. Cuba is a good example.

Miss Howard refered to the socialism of England and other countries and even to good old Tito -- but just how well are these countries doing? In most of these countries the people are in slavery and are hungry and have no freedom at all. If Miss Howard thinks so much of these socialistic countries, why doesn't she leave America with all of its freedom and abundance of good, autos, cars, trucks, planes, churches, and good schools. I for one will help buy her a one way ticket to any of the socialistic countries which she praises so much.

She refers to hate groups making us lose sight of what we are fighting to preserve. I wonder just what she meant when she said preserve. We are not a 100% socialistic nation as yet, so she is not fighting for anything, just trying to sell socialism.

Miss Howard spoke of the rightwingers as being against the United Nations and liberals. I agree with her on this point and say that the so-called rightwingers are 100% right in so doing. If there had not been a large number of what she refers to as rightwingers in America for the last thirty years, then this nation would today be 100% socialistic and not only socialistic but communistic.

She called for democratic constitutional changes to remedy the ills in America and abroad. The administration in power in Washington at this time is doing its best to put this statement into action, but what they are doing is neither democratic or constitutional, it is purely socialistic. She said that this country was in danger of going communistic, but that the government stepped in and we are healthy and affluent. She did not make herself clear as to when this great change took place but I presume she had reference to the present administration as she is trying to sell the same line of socialistic reforms that the administration in power in Washington today is trying to put over on the people of America.

Evidently Miss Howard had reference to the John Birch Society when she referred to the rightwingers and hate groups. I do not belong to the Birch Society and have never even attended one of their meetings. I am, however, an American, a Texan, and a citizen of Randall County, and am 100% for the constitution of the United States as it was written by our forefathers, but not the way it is being interpreted by the group of socialistic leftwingers who sit on the Supreme Court today.

In closing, may I ask that the person or persons responsible for securing speakers for West Texas State College agree to let a committee of people who have no connection with the college secure a speaker who believes in the Constitution of the United States and in the American way of life; one who does not believe that socialism is the answer to our problems today, and that he or she be given a chance to speak to the faculty and students in an open meeting at the earliest possible time.

Two Youths Are Charged

Eight burglary charges were placed against one of the youths and 10 against the other.

Six theft charges were lodged on both.

you will help yourself."

County retail sales were most impressive, with a $1,755,000 gain during the one-year period. The increase was from $16,873,000 to $18,638,000.

Canyon bank deposits were up $383,198 -- from $6,813,951 to $7,207,149 -- last year.

Local postal receipts increased from $6,813,951 in 1960 to $7,207,149 last year. That represents a boost of $1,181.

Building permits in Canyon rose to $1,246,024 in 1961, from $1,024,566, or a gain of $221,458.

No state building permits were issued since no new construction was done at West Texas State College. The previous year's figure was $1,365,532.

Canyon's assessed valuation hit $9,906,662 in 1961 compared to $8,868,525 the previous year, a rise of $38,137.

Assessed valuation for schools rose from $21,214,200 to $23,527,260 during the survey period.

The county registered only a slight gain in the same category -- from $32,460,150 to $32,777,010 -- last year, but Black explained Randall removed passenger cars from its 1961 tax rolls.

The average annual income remained the same in the city --$4,200 -- as the labor force increased from 1,243 to 1,398. In Randall County, the 1960 labor figure was 6,921 compared to 8,390 in 1961.

The federal farm program cutback was reflected in total farm income, down $1,340,725. The 1960 figure was $14,290,725 against $12,950,000 last year.

The number of water, electricity and natural gas meters in Canyon also increased during the one-year survey period, as follows:

Water: 1,730 in 1961 compared to 1,650 the previous year.

Electricity: 1,890 in 1961 compared to 1,848 the previous year.

Natural gas: 1,794 in 1961 compared to 1,741 the previous year.

Schilling has done work at West Texas State College.

Sheriff L. S. (Slim) Johnston, as building custodian, will follow through Schilling.

Beckman, who made the motion to explore the window project, pointed out that "costs are going up -- not coming down."

Glenn Dowlen, commissioner of Precinct 3, seconded the motion, which was approved unanimously.

E. T. Cummings, county auditor, told the meeting the county should have a surplus of some $180,000 by the end of the year, including the monies in the sinking fund.

Cummings explained the 1962 tax dollar will be earmarked as follows:

Jury fund--.05 cents; road and bridge--.30; general .40; courthouse and jail--.20; sinking--.25; and road and bridge special--.30.

Property will be placed on the 1962 tax rolls at 12 1/2 per cent of its total value, compared with 15 per cent this year. The total rate remains the same in both years.

In other action, the commissioners:

1. Acknowledged receipt of a notification that Randall County will receive $3,422.34 from the federal government as its share of revenues from Buffalo Lake.

2. Agreed that Hugh G. Poterfield of Amarillo has the legal right to inspect court records pertaining to tax money spent in the county during the past 15 years. Porterfield asked for such permission in a letter.

The commissioners will go to San Angelo Sunday for the West Texas County Commissioners and Judges convention March 18-20.

Board Members Back

The three members of the Randall County School Board seeking re-election drew no opposition in their bids for another two-year term.

They are Charles Beckman of Precinct 2, Marion Bruce of Precinct 1 and Jess Barker, the trustee-at-large.

Other members of the board are R.B. Gist, Jr., of Precinct 3 and E. R. Cleavinger of Precinct 4. Their terms will expire next year.

The formal election will be held at the Legion Hall April 7.

The commission also:

2. Instructed the City Attorney, T. G. Hull, Jr., to draw an instrument on a sewer line payback to Bill Money.

3. Discussed trash burning in the city, with Fire Marshal Jack Jennings participating.

4. Revealed that a Fort Worth man, W. R. Neal, plans to start constructing a 32-unit motel, swimming pool and restaurant on the property immediately north of the Canyon Bowling Alley within six weeks.

The commission authorized York to notify Neal the city will be unable to furnish him sewer lines but will supply him with water.

WT Students To Lubbock

Top science students at West Texas State College will participate in a two-day Collegiate Science Research Conference at Texas Tech beginning tomorrow.

In all, 60 students from 15 state colleges and universities will participate in the regional meeting, one of five in Texas.

The annual conferences are supported with National Science Foundation grants, and are sponsored by the Texas Academy of Science.

The students will participate in research activities in the fields of chemistry, physics and biology.

Ralph Wayne, newscaster for KFDA Channel 10 in Amarillo, will speak at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday on his recent trip to parts of the Congo.

The talk will be in Fellowship Hall of First Presbyterian Church. Wayne will be sponsored by the Presbyterian Women's Association.

Shower Honors Recent Bride

To honor Mrs. Richard Fleming, who was married recently, a miscellaneous bridal shower was given in the home of Mrs. F. M. Kinney, Friday evening, from 7 until 9 o'clock.

Greeting the guests were Mrs. Kinney, Mrs. Fleming, her mother, Mrs. M. D. Buttrill and Mrs. Walter Kirkpatrick, mother of the bridegroom. The mothers were presented corsages of white carnations, and the honoree received an orchid.

The refreshment table was centered with an arrangement of white carnations, accented with a miniature bride. Punch and individual cakes, decorated with wedding bells and iced in green, were served to the guests with Mrs. Glenda Rogers and Mrs. Janell Thrasher presiding at the table.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames Kinney, Nancy Lee, Rogers, Thrasher, Mary Bailey and Joan Prichard.

Series Ends With Uppman March 26

Final recital in The Canyon Community Concert series this season will be presented March 26.

Theodore Uppman, baritone star of the Metropolitan and San Francisco operas, recital, radio and television, will appear in the Canyon High School auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

Uppman is a well-known American singer in many circles, achieving fame through Benjamin Britten's opera, "Billy Budd," and Met roles in "The Magic Flute," "Pelleas et Melisande," "Don Giovanni," "La Perichole" and "Die Fledermaus."

As a favorite of Central City, Colorado's famed opera festival, he has been heard by numerous Texas Panhandle -- including Canyon -- citizens. In the summer of 1960, he performed "Carmen" with the Santa Fe Opera Co. in New Mexico. He then premiered the Hindemith opera "News of the Day," under the baton of Paul Hindemith.

Canyon Community Concert Association has presented a homogeneous series of artists this season. They have included the internationally-known Juilliard String Quartet; youthful piano wonder Charles Rosen; and versatile dramatist Philip Hanson.

Attendance has been more than 500 at some programs, to complete a record year for the association.

Admission to each concert is by membership card only. Members who have not already used three punches on their cards may fulfill their four punches by bringing guests to the Uppman program.

UMBARGER NEWS

St. Mary's Altar Society and Christian Mothers met March 6 in the church basement with 32 members and the president attending. Mrs. Leonard Batenhorst presided at the business session.

It was announced that the spring meeting of the D. C. C. W. will be April 3, beginning at 9 o'clock in the morning and that at 11 o'clock, a Mass will be held in order that all who wish may receive Holy Communion.

WOODARD . . .

Christ, Eldorado, Oklahoma.

Miss Julie Woodard, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Velva Lee, a niece of the bridegroom, served as candlelighter. Both wore green cotton dresses with bands of white lace on the full skirts and sleeves. White bandeaux were accented with sprigs of lily-of-the-valley, and the attendants wore white gloves and slippers. Their flowers were colonial nosegays with tiny white gladioli blossoms predominating.

Dickie Lee of Littlefield served his brother as best man.

A brown silk sheath dress, accented with white gardenias, in a corsage creation, was worn by the bride's mother. Her accessories were of matching brown. The bridegroom's mother chose a silk sheath dress of banana color with coordinated accessories, and her flowers were also white gardenias.

A reception was held in the Hotel Shaffer ballroom immediately following the ceremony with Mrs. S. L. Harris and Mrs. R. L. Garrett of Mangum, aunts of the bride, assisting Mrs. Woodard as hostesses. Mrs. Gary Lee of Canyon and Miss Susan McDaniel of Midland also assisted during the reception.

Floor baskets of white gladioli flanked the collatian table. White net over white with wedding bells and lilies-of-the-valley caught the corners and center drape. A silver punch bowl and a four-tiered cake, topped with bells, were artistically balanced by silver candelabra holding spiral tapers. Miss McDaniel was in charge of the guest register.

For going away the bride chose a royal blue linen suit, a half hat and black patent slippers. The orchid from her bridal bouquet pinned into a corsage to complement the ensemble.

The bride is a graduate of Olustee High School where she was salutatorian of her Senior Class. She is presently a student at West Texas State College where she is a member of the student senate and of Alpha Delta Pi sorority. The bridegroom is also a student at West Texas State.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee are making their home in Canyon.

TELEPHONE TALK

by Gene Adkisson, Manager

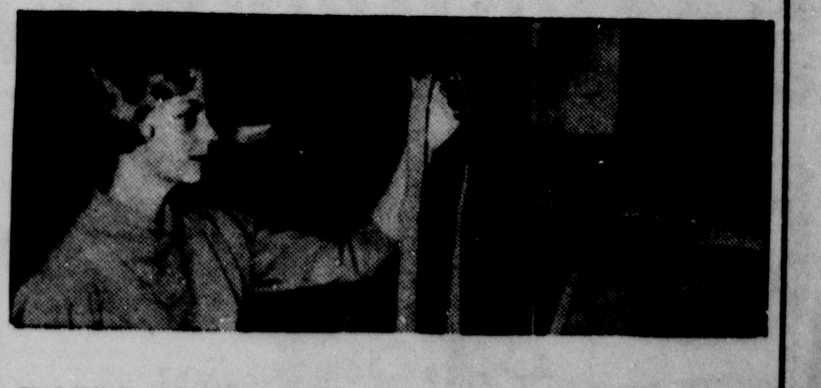
ABOUT YOUR TELEPHONE BILL

We know how important it is to you that the bill you receive from us for your telephone service each month is correct. And we try very hard to see that it is always right.

Most calls are billed with the help of marvelous new electronic machines. These machines help us to hold down our cost of billing -- which means holding down the price you pay for telephone service. It would be almost impossible to do the whole billing job by hand.

Though our electronic machines are almost miraculous in their speed and accuracy, it is still possible, once in a while, for something to go wrong. For that reason we have dependable telephone people checking and double-checking the bills at every key point in the process.

In the telephone business, we combine machines and people for the utmost accuracy in your telephone bill. Like any other part of your telephone service we are always looking for new ways to improve it while holding down the price you pay.



TALKING UNDERGROUND

Have you noticed any difference in your long distance conversations lately to Hereford, Clovis and points west of Canyon? You may not have noticed any change, but your long distance conversations to points west are now going underground via the new cable between here and Hereford.

The completion of this project marks another milestone in our efforts to provide better and more efficient telephone service. This new underground cable will do away with telephone problems such as broken poles and lines due to wind storm, lightning, and ice storms.

The next time you talk over long distance to a point west of here see if you can tell the difference.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Loman Jones' Locker Room

The name -- the Whirlwind Relays -- fits.

It did, at least, in Lubbock Saturday, when the Canyon High School track team showed their stuff on the wind-swept Texas Tech field and came home clutching the AA division title.

The strong, gusty, dust-laden winds also annoyed the West Texas State College Buffaloes as they completed their first week of spring football training.

WT Coach Joe Kerbel sent his outfit through a two-hour drill the last day of the week. Only a minor injury was reported.

Midway in the first week, ace halfback Pete Pedro broke a blood vessel in his leg. Kerbel expects him to be back in running condition this week.

Pedro's roommate, bulldozing fullback Ollie Ross, is also hurt. The coach said he is pleased with the team attitude and hustle.

The squad has been working almost exclusively on defense, spending long sessions on secondary pass protection. Linemen were getting acquainted by helping each other up.

Kerbel said he wants boys that can play both ways. It's difficult, he said, to play a man one way only because of the substitution rules.

CHS Coach "Jeep" Webb took 18 high school trackmen to the Texas Tech meet. Webb and Coach Charles Chambless had praises for his boys. Webb said he was impressed with the team's early showing and he looked for steady improvement.

High on the list of commendation was the school's 440-yard relay team. The boys set a new meet record of 45.5 in the preliminaries and tied the record at 45.6 in the finals. Floydada set the record in 1961.

Many of the boys who run track are finding out all over again the toils of getting into condition. Since each sport requires unique methods of rounding into shape, the first few days of track can be gruelling. No matter how superior a boys wind and endurance from basketball, it's common knowledge that an athlete has to begin a new training program to survive track.

The same principles of switched training methods also apply for football.

For this hard-nosed game, ruggedness, the stamina of a boxer, and quick reactions must be a part of the training program.

In basketball, a boy must condition his muscles and lung capacity for sudden bursts of speed, quick stops and spontaneous reactions.

In track, the muscles must be conditioned to stretch without pulling "charlie horses" in them. Endurance must be greater. Individual effort must be accelerated.

Of course there are many things that go into the making of a superior athlete. Perhaps the most important is natural ability -- plus a deep motivation to win.

Harry Lisle and Donald Knowles, CHS trackmen, get set for a practice run in this week's workouts.

Claude Girl Teams Put Town On Map

Claude's basketball playing girls, won the Class B championship in Austin last week, and continued to heap recognition upon their Panhandle city.

The Mustangettes have played a big part in putting the Armstrong County city on the map. They have won four state crowns and were runners-up three other years.

In Austin Saturday Claude knocked off Wells, 55-41, to give Coach F. G. Crofford his first state title at the school. The mentor, who has been at Claude for six years, has had his team at the state meet for four straight years.

Claude was behind in the contest only once, 2-1, although the score remained close throughout the first half. At intermission the Mustangettes held a narrow 27-25 lead. First period score was 12-10.

All-State forward Betty Ransom supplied the fire power for Claude, racking up 25 points before fouling out midway in the fourth quarter. Teammate Shirley Oles contributed 16 points to the Claude cause, with assistance from Prairie Chamberlin and Nancy Hundley with seven each.

Lana Crawford led the Well's team with 19 points. Jo Ellen Stokes hit 14 for the losers.

Claude increased its lead in the third quarter and had taken a 41-33 advantage early in the final frame. The Mustangettes shot only three times during the last quarter but connected on all three attempts.

Wayne Rutherford and Jess Sheets, CHS middle distance men helped their team place first in the Whirlwind Relays in Lubbock Saturday. Coach "Jeep" Webb will take his team to Odessa Saturday to compete in the West Texas Relays.

The 4 that goes around acting like a V-8...Tempest!

Used to be that people swore by V-8's and V-8's alone. And then along came Tempest's spunky 4 to steal their thunder. The hottest version of this 4 (166 hp) puts out more horsepower than any other production 4 in the world. More torque, too. And every version, standard 110 hp on up, is smooth and silent and effortless. About the only thing Tempest doesn't share with the big boys is its appetite for gasoline and spare parts. Try a drive in a Tempest 4 soon, hear? You might as well save while you're swinging!* Pontiac Tempest

Top AAU Teams Set To Go In Benefit Game

The Phillips 66ers and the Akron Goodyears lock horns here at 8 o'clock tonight in West Texas State College Fieldhouse.

If past performances run true to form, spectators will witness a hot time in the old gym tonight. The two units played a 99-98 thriller here last year, with Phillips the victor.

Two former Southwest Conference players will add local interest to the teams, which represented the United States on State Department trips to the Middle East last October and November.

Leon Hill, former Sudan High School and Texas Tech cager, recently joined the Goodyears. The six-foot six-inch forward, played one year with the Peoria Caterpillars. He was an all-Southwest Conference player at Tech.

The other former Southwest Conference man is Rice's and Phillip's Tom Robitaille. He is the player who last year against Goodyear sank two free throws in the last three seconds of play for the narrow win margin. The six-foot eight-inch Robitaille was also all-conference in college, and holds the school's record of 42 points in a conference game. He has been the 66ers top rebounder the past two seasons.

For the second consecutive year the AAU teams will play for the benefit of the Amarillo Regional Hearing and Speech Foundation. The game is sponsored by the Amarillo Rotary Club.

Akron has beaten the 66ers two of the three times they have met this year. Phillips won the first game, 118-96, but Goodyear came back to take 115-99 and 115-104 victories.

Phillips has a 37-6 record compared to Akron's 37-3.

Last season on the team's good will jaunts the 66ers conducted clinics in Greece, Jordan, Lebanon, Syria, Egypt and Cyprus on a seven-weeks tour. At that time Goodyear was touring Iran, Iraq, Afghanistan and Turkey. Both teams were undefeated.

Tickets for the match are on sale at the WT Fieldhouse at $2 for reserved seats and $1.50 for general admission.

Winning the track meet at Lubbock was a great triumph for the track team this year. The boys obtained 105 1/3 points, enabling them to win the meet by 1/3 of a point against Muleshoe, runner-up.

The art classes, under the supervision of Mrs. Royal Brantley, have been making frames for pictures the teachers selected from a collection from the college book store.

These pictures have added much delight to the rooms in CHS.

Monday was the beginning of Courtesy Week. Each day one student has given a speech over the P.A. system relating to courtesy.

Monday Karen Erwin gave a good thought for everyone, "A smile costs nothing, but creates much."

One of the latest envies of the CHS student body is Grace Williams' 1928 purple and white Chevrolet.

It's not likely Grace would sell the "Old Buzzard," since her father had kept it for her until she was old enough to drive.

Believe it or not, it reaches the grand total of 20 miles per hour!

Screw Worm Spotlighted Tonight

Randall County's new screw worm eradication program will be explained to livestock producers in the district courtroom tonight.

County Agent John Brazzil set the meeting for 8 o'clock.

"This work is now underway," Brazzil said. "Each week, sterile flies numbering in the million are being released in the Rio Grande Valley area."

He urged area livestock producers to attend.

"Organizations such as the Texas Farm Bureau, Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association -- and many more livestock producer groups - have undertaken to pool their efforts to make the year 1962 a screw worm-free year in Texas, Brazill said.

Several local livestock producers have heard first-hand reports on the program. They include Edd Reynolds, George Schaeffer, Raymond Batenhorst, Pete Leavitt, Ben Koch, Melvin Schaeffer and Ernest Barnett.

Cooper's MARKET Fine Foods

Chow The Finest, Breeder Contends

BY JOE BAILEY

(Written for The Canyon News)

Contrary to public opinion, the Chow Chow (commonly known as the Chow) is not a mean dog. It is the people to which any dog belongs that makes him ill-tempered or nervous.

For example, I know of a Chow Chow in Amarillo owned by the W. R. Davis's of Chow Chow Acres which will not even let children fight among themselves. Instead he will tenderly grab the aggressor by the seat of his pants and pull him away from the other child.

The Davis's do not even bother with a baby sitter for their one-year-old son. Instead, they simply bring in one of their beautiful Chinese Chow Chows.

All of the thorough-bred Chow Chows I have ever seen loved children to the extent that they devote their lives to the children's happiness and safety.

As I have said before, the Chow Chow is a Chinese dog. The Chow Chow is a sacred dog in China even today, as it has been since thousands of years before the coming of Christ.

The "blue" Chow Chow is the most sacred of all the Chows in China today. There are only about 50 of these in the United States today. In 1958 there were only 14 of these beautiful "blues."

Chow Chows came in reds, cinnamons, creams, honey-coloreds, mahoganies, and blacks, as well as the rare "blues." The reds are the most predominant of the breed. I, or I should say my wife, is the owner of one of the fabulous "blues."

Chow Chows, according to the experts of the show ring, must have short bodies, almond-shaped eyes, short round ears, numerous wrinkles on the forehead to show expression, big bone, good confirmation, and many more characteristics peculiar to the breed.

However, one of the most important things a judge looks for is a deep, uniform, and shiny coat.

On the average, a Chow Chow weighs approximately 45-50 pounds. They have a large expressive head and the expression varies with the feelings of the dog. One may easily tell if the dog is happy and smiling, or disgusted and frowning.

All Chow Chows have black mouths and tongues except for the "blue" ones, which have purplish mouths and tongues. I presume it is for this reason that the old Chinese legend states that the Chow Chow originally evolved from the bear that is a native to China.

One may easily see how they could believe this when one looks at the black tongue and sloping hindquarters of the Chow Chow and the bear. It is really frightening to compare the Chow Chow puppy and the bear cub. They are almost identical.

I sincerely hope that this article has cleared up the doubt in the public's mind as to what a Chow Chow really is. Please do not confuse the Chow Chow with other dogs because of the numerous dogs with long coats or with spotted mouths. They cannot help it if they are crossed with alley dogs and made vicious because people were inhumane to them.

The Chow Chow is truly a noble breed and I know that there will never be another dog in my mind except the Chow Chow.

Chow Chow owners Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bailey show Ichi-Ni and Choo Choo Boo-gie. Animal on the right has seven champions and four international champions in pedigree. Ichi has 11 champions and six international champs in his pedigree.

Clifford Wins Auction Degree

Bill Clifford of Rural Route 1, Canyon, has completed a course in auctioneering and auction sales management at the Missouri Auction School in Kansas City.

Clifford, who received the honorary title of colonel, is a graduate of West Texas State College.

He and his wife have three children.

2 Clubs Proposed

Area republicans want to organize two Young Republican Clubs here -- one at West Texas State College, the other in Canyon.

Representatives of the Amarillo Young Republicans made the suggestion last week before some 50 persons attending a Canyon and Randall County 1962 GOP kickoff rally.

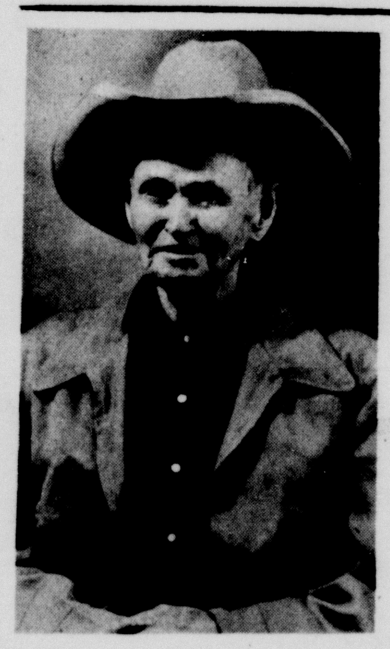
Canyon and Dalhart, the meeting was told, are the only two area cities without young GOP organizations.

Jack Seale, mayor of Amarillo and republican candidate for Congress, and Kenneth Kohler, GOP representative in the state legislature from Amarillo, also addressed the rally.

Seale contended the U. S. government is headed towards socialism and that the country is now at a crossroads.

The government, he added, must become a government of the people -- or become socialistic.

Seale said the voters must decide which route the government will take.



WILLIS L. FISHER of Wayside will observe his 90th birthday in the Neblett Hospital and Clinic March 23. Mrs. Lem S. Fisher of Canyon -- her husband is Fisher's nephew -- figures he's entitled to a card shower. She described Fisher, a bachelor, as a "real old-time cowboy."

Bowe Rites In Happy

Services were conducted by The Rev. James C. Willett, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and The Rev. Walter Hadley, pastor of the First Methodist Church, both of Happy.

Bowe was born March 29, 1890, in Iowa. He was married to Lola Potts Sept. 1, 1918.

M., and Forrest of New York City; two sisters, Mrs. Vern Witherspoon of Hereford and Mrs. George Young of El Paso; 24 grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren.

'Ready For Drought?' Conservationist Asks

Douglas Cunningham, area range conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, poses a question:

"Are you ready for a drought?"

Then he adds:

"Frequent occurrence of drought is a part of the Texas Panhandle history. As ranchers, we can be ready for drought because we know it is coming.

"Among stockmen a favorable year or two often encourages an unwise effort to make up for the losses of past, less favorable seasons, by expanding livestock numbers. Wishing will not change the weather. Seldom does a series of five years go by without a year or two of drought or very dry weather.

"The operator who has expanded his livestock in expectation of another favorable year doesn't like to sell his animals on a declining market until the threat of drought becomes a certainty -- then it is likely to be too late.

"Basic management practices include conservative stocking, adequate supplemental feed supplies, seasonal use of the range, uniform distribution of livestock over the range.

"Recommended adjustment during drought years include close cutting of dry cows and undesirable animals, and caution in restocking the range before good vigor has returned.

"Try not to be caught unprepared for drought -- we all know we are due for a dry spell."

A 60-yard shot from a 300-Savage rifle collected this fullgrown bobcat held by Kenny Crossland, left, and Craig Hinger. Hinger shot the animal after it was spotted by Crossland. The two boys were hunting about 20 miles east of here in Palo Duro Canyon. Estimated weight of the 'cat was around 35 pounds.

KEEPING UP WITH THE ARTS

Perhaps young art students are not aware of the numerous opportunities and scholarships being offered in their chosen field.

One of these opportunities has been extended to Canyon senior art students.

Each year the General Federation of Women's Clubs and Hallmark Cards offer three scholarships to seniors graduating in 1962.

In Canyon, the Woman's Book Club asks students to submit their work judged by a qualified art person and then the work is entered in the district competition. From this group another selection is made and so on until the national awards.

The theme of this year's contest is America Today. Art work, as in every endeavor, must be done with care, integrity, and purpose to be worthy of national competition. This becomes an extremely difficult task since so many individual differences come out in painting. There can be no set of specific rules.

Let's wish our entry from Canyon the best of luck on the entry this year.

Once more the American Legal Secretaries Association is planning to hold the Second Annual Invitational Tri-State Art Show. This year it will be held on April 29 at the Estate Life Building on the Canyon Expressway.

This show was a huge success last year. This year, the show will be more extensive and sculpture has been added to the showing.

Since the Panhandle does not have an art museum for art exhibits, this general show provides an opportunity for the public to see a cross-section of the styles of work being produced in our area.

We claim to have a very well-rounded cultural balance in our society in this section of the country. The group of Amarillo legal secretaries have introduced to our area the experience of seeing an exhibition that an area with an art museum provides the whole year.

Amarillo is certainly large enough to provide an art museum (and it would be a feather in their cap to build one before art-conscious Lubbock builds one first!!!)

The art show is sponsored to aid a scholarship fund for a student in the area. The money raised is contributed to the Opportunity Plan to help a student attend West Texas State College.

The artists who are winners in the show take home some very generous prizes and this exhibition of paintings is the most outstanding one of the year in our Panhandle of Texas.

What can be done with orlon blankets that snap, spark with blue and green flames, cause static on the radio, and seem to be alive and angry???

SISTER DIES

Word was received here this week of the death of Mrs. Mary Melinda Sheriff Shulz in Albuquerque, New Mexico. She was a former resident of the Louis community near Hollis, Oklahoma, and services were held in the First Baptist Church in that city, with burial in the family plot at Bethel.

Mrs. Shulz was a sister of Mrs. T. W. Henderson of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, and their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schultz of White Deer, attended the services.

Here's just ONE of 28 REASONS why . . .
YOU SHOULD COOK ON a GOLD STAR GAS RANGE

FLAME-FLAVORED, CLOSED-DOOR BROILING — Expert chefs agree that nothing brings out the juicy goodness of meats like a live flame. And the broiler door stays closed because Gas flames consume smoke! Twenty-seven other features, including automatic rotisserie and roasting controls, are your assurance of the finest range money can buy!

TRY THIS SIMPLE TEST
Hold a lighted match an inch or so above the smoke from a cigarette and see how the smoke disappears. This is the principle of smokeless Gas broiling.

And remember
FLAME-FAST GAS cooks at least five times cheaper than "coil-type" cooking

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

Thursday night, March 15, is the time to hear the miracle story on screw worm eradication in Texas. Randall County livestock producers are invited to this meeting to be held in the district courtroom in Canyon at 8:00 p.m. Several livestock producers have had an opportunity to hear this story and rate it as a modern miracle. This meeting is being sponsored by the Texas A & M College Extension service.

Randall County wheat looks dry. The hard freezes in early March pretty well stopped the top growth and changed the appearance. The brown wheat mite is doing some damage. Greenbugs are still present and are increasing slowly. Spraying thus far has not been extensive and spraying conditions have been all but good. The next couple of weeks should tell just how extensive the greenbug scare will be. Chemical control of the wheat mite is not satisfactory. A good rain would go a long way toward solving many of the wheat problems we now have.

Recent gains made by cattle on wheat pasture have been good. Cattle are coming off wheat in record numbers now and the market is able to absorb this large run. Fed beef prices look good to the feeder and the large feeders are filling up the lots again.

Several Randall County farmers attended the educational meeting on irrigated pastures held in Canyon on March 6. Many farmers are making plans to put in plantings of switch or Midland bermuda. These are irrigated grasses. Our experiences with these grasses, especially midland, are limited. The stories coming out of the south plains sound very good but before we can go all the way on an untried practice we believe local proof should be the basis of our recommendations.

The West Texas Swine Improvement Association is planning another big sale on Thursday, March 22 in Canyon. For the past several years this association has offered breeders the tops in tested boars. This sale should enable swine producers an opportunity to find the kind of animal they need to improve their breeding stock.

ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Thompson went to Plainview Monday morning to attend funeral services for Ollie Williams, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Thompson's. He died of a heart attack, Friday afternoon. A son, Jack Williams, is a student at West Texas State College.

Writing Contest Entered by CHS

Canyon High School students are competing in the 27th annual national high school writing contest sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Mrs. Johnnie McBroom, in charge of the local program, said this year's topic is "America the Beautiful--How Long Without Clean Water?"

The deadline for CHS entries is today. They will be graded at the school and the top five will be submitted to a local panel of three judges to select the winner.

The theme taking first place here will compete with others from over the state. The Texas winner's essay will vie for national honors in Kansas City, Mo., where the selections will be made after June 1.

The first three winners in the local contest will receive cash awards of $5, $3 and $2. Certificates will also be awarded.

The national awards are $1,000 for first place; $500 for second; $250 for third; $100 for fourth; and 20 other lesser cash awards for honorable mention.

The contest was inaugurated to encourage students to think and write about patriotic subjects.

CHS entered last year's contest.

Local judges are Dr. Jack Walker, David Matthis and William L. Peart.

CLOCK BOUGHT, '09

During the past week the commissioners court has been figuring on and considering the clock for the new court house and has finally come to the conclusion that the timepiece should be installed. They have therefore placed the order with the Howard Watch people for one of their best clocks. The clock will have five foot dials and will strike the hours and half hours.

A young man of Plainview who had not reached his majority, walked into the county clerk's office a few days ago with a guilty look on his face and approaching the official said, "I want a license in a hurry." Upon being questioned as to his age, his parents whereabouts, and the age of the "young Lady," the surprised young man answered, "Thunder, I don't want to marry, I just want an automobile license."

CHS Studies Social Sciences

(The following article was written by Mrs. Dan Sanders, a teacher of American government in Canyon High School. Other teachers of the social sciences are Charles Chambless and E. J. Webb, American history, and Mrs. Lillian Graham, world history.)

The program of the social sciences in Canyon High School includes world history, American history, and government: federal, state, and local, offered on the sophomore, junior, and senior levels, respectively.

These three credit units are required of our graduates--this requirement being one-half credit more than that set up by Texas law. Films, speakers, reports, and other means conducive to good teaching are used in classes. Time is also given for discussion of current happenings and in doing research projects.

It is hoped that after three years of study, our students will have obtained an understanding of world history, and its relation to the history of our country.

In addition, they learn to appreciate the history of this country in relation to the type of government it uses. This seems a good method of preparing future citizens of the United States.

World history as offered in the school is a survey course--not complete--not exacting. It attempts to help the student understand countries in relation to background in geography --not as to just where a country is, but the elements involved in geography which have aided in shaping the destiny of the land.

This course touches upon all factors, and thus the reasons why great countries have faded and others arisen due to economic, political or social upheavals.

In our course in Canyon the object is to make this history so alive and so real that daily world news events become understandable and enjoyable to each individual.

Historical personages become characters to be understood and rated as to intentions and then actions--in view of their lives--in view of their locations -- in view of their training.

This does not seem a very difficult matter in present situations, and with television and other communications media so accessible. However, the linking of the past with the present in order to show cause and effect does offer a challenge.

The curiosity of the student must be stimulated and satisfied in regard to this in his own country and in other countries. Although the present must not and cannot be eliminated in class work, the past must offer the basis for attainment.

Thus in making this history alive, we help the student to feel a responsibility to play his part in creating history--that type under which he feels he may best live and progress.

Therefore history is presented on the basis that it is personal; each makes it; each of them faces the results of the history so made. With activity in the world as it is today, stimulation is not difficult in some areas.

The difficulty is to create a factual reasoning power to counterbalance the emotional impact of so many events which are happening in our world today.

The history of our country is unique. It is the greatest success story to be told today. Many men, with their strength and weaknesses, in an environment of freedom, helped to weave this great tapestry--not yet complete.

Teachers in this field must accept a very great responsibility, for their students must be equipped with reliable information pertinent to the problems of the community, the state, the nation and the world. The program of work is organized around basic concepts which have largely determined the American way of life.

The people themselves, their country, its political principles, traditions, and institutions are topics which students must learn to understand and appreciate.

In the United States government by the people is an established fact, and upon this fact the structure of our culture is based. Boys and girls learn that unless the people continue to govern reasonably well, this culture will inevitably collapse.

The average citizen in America must make good or the nation dies. It is most important that our young people understand their privileges and their responsibilities in our government, for the future of the nation is in their hands.

In connection with the teaching of American history and government emphasis is placed upon the structure and functions of government. Many documents are used as aids but special work is done by seniors on the Texas Constitution and the Constitution of the United States.

It is our hope that a wider understanding of a free and democratic way of life will result, that students will gird themselves with faith, for the battle of the present and for the future is for the minds of men.

May we all keep on saying with the fervor of Daniel Webster: "Thank God, I am an American!"
